

Play Princess Di's Dress Dash SHOPPING EXTRAVAGANZA

Poor Princess Di can't go to the ball... because she's sold all her dresses for charity. But YOU can be Di for a day and help her buy a brand new outfit, by playing this spectacular exclusive fashion shopping game.

You have been invited to a lavish charity bash in aid of land mines, but following your New York charity frock auction all you have left to wear is your bra and knickers. Using a Di cut-out as your marker, make your way around the board calling at the poshest frock shops in town. You must collect a dress, a hat, some shoes and a handbag before you can make your way along the red carpet and into the Gala Land Mine Charity Ball. As well as experiencing all the thrills of a distastefully extravagant Knightsbridge shopping expedition, you'll also experience the spills, for there are numerous fashion faux pas to be avoided along the way.

How to play

It's a game for up to 4 Princess Di's. Cut out the Di figures, frocks and fashion accessories. Each player selects a Di figure to use as their marker and places it on the Kensington Palace start square. Make up the dice following the diagram. Take it in turns to go shopping by throwing the dice and moving around the board clockwise. Follow the instructions on the squares, putting frocks and accessories onto your Di marker by carefully folding the tabs. Only when you are fully clothed with a dress, hat, shoes and handbag can you make your way onto the red carpet squares. The first Princess Di to arrive at the Charity Ball fully attired, by throwing the correct number to finish, wins the game in a blaze of publicity.

A pepperoni photographer takes a picture of you getting out of your car but your dress is too long to flash your furry hoop, and the photo fails to make the papers. Go back 4 squares.
